Process for Manuscript Submission. Manuscripts intended for publications should be submitted by electronic mail in PostScript to tosem@elet.polimi.it, together with a separate abstract of the paper in ascii form. Paper submissions in five double-spaced copies, to the Editor-in-Chief, are also acceptable. In both cases a submittal letter should be sent to the Editor-in-Chief. It must contain full contact information of the lead author, with a statement, signed by him/her, that the material contained in the submitted paper has not been previously published and is not currently under consideration for publication elsewhere. If the submission is an extended, polished version of a conference paper the lead author should identify the conference and specify the differences between the submission and the conference version. Papers will be refereed in the manner customary with scientific journals before being accepted for publication. Authors should keep editors informed of changes of address.

Correspondence on editorial matters should be addressed to: tosem@elet.polimi.it, or on paper, to one of the editors. Correspondence regarding accepted papers should be addressed to: Roma Simon, Managing Editor, 2 Penn Plaza, Suite 701, New York, NY 10121-0701, simon@hq.acm.org with a copy to the Editor-in-Chief.

Subscription rates for ACM Transactions on Software Engineering and Methodology are $36 per year for ACM members, $31 for students, and $145 for nonmembers. Single copies are $18 each for ACM members and $40 for nonmembers. Your subscription expiration date is coded in four digits at the top of your mailing label; the first two digits show the year, the last two show the month of expiration.

About ACM. ACM is the world's largest educational and scientific computing society, uniting educators, researchers and professionals to inspire dialogue, share resources and address the field's challenges. ACM strengthens the computing profession's collective voice through strong leadership, promotion of the highest standards, and recognition of technical excellence. ACM supports the professional growth of its members by providing opportunities for life-long learning, career development, and professional networking.

Notice to Past Authors of ACM-Published Articles. ACM intends to create a complete electronic archive of all articles and/or other materials previously published by ACM. If you have written a work that was previously published by ACM in any journal or conference proceedings prior to 1978, or any SIG Newsletter at any time, and you do NOT want this work to appear in the ACM Digital Library, please inform permission@acm.org, stating the title of the work, the author(s), and where and when published.

Visit ACM's Web site: http://www.acm.org.

Change of Address Notification. To notify ACM of a change of address, use the addresses above or send an email to coa@acm.org.

Please allow 6-8 weeks for new membership or change of name and address to become effective. Send your old label with your new address notification. To avoid interruption of service, notify your local post office before change of residence. For a fee, the post office will forward 2nd- and 3rd-class periodicals.
